Your presence at the show

Why not take steps to introduce yourself at Germany’s largest professional development event for veterinary practitioners. We can offer you the following options:

The exhibition stand
Create an attention-grabbing presentation of your products and services in Exhibition Hall 2, which offers ideal conditions for exhibiting and is located in close proximity to the congress activities.

Complete stand package
Moreover, we can offer you a complete stand package, comprising the hire charges for floor space, construction of the stand, furniture and an electrical connection.

Example Complete Stand PROFI
For stand sizes from 9 to 20 m²

Company symposia and workshops
As an exhibitor, you have the opportunity to play an active part in shaping the Congress Programme and to be part of it. All participants in the 8th Leipzig Veterinary Congress may visit the company symposia free of charge and without advance registration.

Workshops will be included in the Congress Programme following agreement of the programme steering committee. We will keep a register of participants in your workshops and calculate payment due accordingly.

Sponsorship
All exhibitors have the opportunity of having their names included in one or other of a variety of sponsoring packages and thus positioning themselves with their target group for the long term.

Leipzig Veterinary Congress on course for success

The Leipzig Veterinary Congress is the largest professional development event for veterinary medicine in the German-speaking world, both in terms of numbers of participants and the scope of the region involved. In short, it has established itself as a natural fixture in the veterinary profession. Thus, in January 2016, a total of 4,400 participants came to Leipzig and 190 exhibitors from 10 countries attended the accompanying exhibition ‘vetexpo’. That makes the Leipzig Veterinary Congress one of the largest professional exhibitions for veterinary medicine in Germany.

The congress is the largest professional development event for veterinary medicine in the German-speaking world.

The Congress Programme allows for a regular stream of seminars and exchange of ideas and experiences for powerful partners.

The congress organises various conferences on all key topics at the congress.

The Leipzig Veterinary Congress is also a platform for organisations to present themselves.

Industries and exhibitions continue to grow

Five good reasons for taking part in the trade show

1. Huge potential of the Leipzig Veterinary Congress

With 6,400 congress delegates, 460 speakers and 980 exhibitors, the congress is very popular.

2. The Congress Programme

Because of the event’s 2-year cycle, the programme steering committee is able to offer a varied and innovative programme, which is without equal anywhere else.

3. Very satisfied exhibitionists

55 % of exhibition stands renew their contract already and 78 % plan to return.

4. Very satisfied exhibitionists

55 % of exhibition stands renew their contract already and 78 % plan to return.

5. Leipzig – the trade fair location for you

The exhibition Centre and Exhibition Hall in the northern district of Leipzig enjoy high levels of technical functionality and excellent transport connections.

With its central location in Leipzig, it offers an excellent setting to which companies and institutions can drive. The event infrastructure is highly developed and ensures that everything is ready for the veterinary congress.
